WELCOME ADDRESS

With Jesus' joy and a heart full of gratitude to God, I welcome you to the inaugural edition of the Impact Conference.

Impact '25 is a global event that is divinely ordained to be a mountain of encounter and empowerment. This is no ordinary convening. You have not come to a physical mountain like the Israelites did at Mount Sinai—a place of blazing fire, darkness, gloom, and whirlwind. Rather, you have come to Mount Zion, to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to countless thousands of angels in joyful assembly. You have come to the assembly of God's firstborn, whose names are written in heaven. You have come to God Himself, the righteous Judge over all. You have come to the spirits of the righteous who have been made perfect. Above all, you have come to Jesus, the mediator of the new covenant, and to the sprinkled blood that speaks a better word—a word of mercy and forgiveness, not of vengeance like the blood of Abel (Hebrews 12:18, 22–24).

In this conference, God is set to raise an army of trailblazers, pacesetters, and pathfinders—Christians, both young and old, who will shift the culture and will not settle or accept mediocrity. Rather, they will impact their world for God.

This three-day conference will feature sound teachings from seasoned teachers of the Word, each of whom is already making significant impact for Christ in their respective fields. You will be challenged, stretched, encouraged and motivated to do better, aim higher, and strive for more. There will also be prayer and impartation sessions. Beloved, in this year of exceeding abundant grace, this conference is an opportunity to access sufficient grace that will equip you to live an impactful life.

Our anchor scripture, Matthew 5:14 reminds us that we are the light of the world. Just like a city that is located on a hill cannot be hidden, we are called to “live it loud” and shine bright for Christ. Brethren, do not hide your light.

I implore you, over the next three days, to avoid distractions. Come to this conference each day with an expectant heart, and with a willing and obedient spirit. Come thirsty—ready to receive. Attend every session. Invest this time to just tarry in His presence until you are endued with power from on high. It is my prayer that you will meet with God in a life-transforming way at this conference in Jesus name.

You are a global ambassador for Jesus Christ. His banner must be lifted high through you. Now, go forth in this might—and impact your world!

God bless you.

Pst. Nike Oyetoran
Lead Pastor, RCCG myFather's House

MEET OUR SPEAKERS

Dr. Nike Oyetoran

Pastor Bodunde Olanike Oyetoran—affectionately known as Pastor Nike—is, first and foremost, a child of God, and a lover of His kingdom. She is a distinguished academic, holding a Ph.D. in Biology from Carleton University, Canada. In addition, she has earned a Postgraduate Diploma in Theology, along with certifications in Strategic Leadership, Leadership & Authority in the Church, and Conflict Management in the Church. She is also a certified Forgiveness Life Coach, and holds a Postgraduate Diploma in Regulatory Affairs Sciences from Algonquin College, Canada, where she currently serves as a professor of Biotechnology.

Pastor Nike has been devoted to God's work since her youth, serving in various capacities over the years. She gave her life to Jesus Christ during her undergraduate studies at the Federal University of Technology Akure (FUTA). As she grew in the Lord, she took on several responsibilities, including the Treasurer and Sisters' Coordinator of the Redeemed Christian Fellowship (RCF). She graduated as the best student in both her undergraduate and graduate programs. Alongside her husband, she has pioneered and pastored several parishes of the Redeemed Christian Church of God (RCCG) across Port Harcourt and Lagos, Nigeria.

She has faithfully been about her Father's business, serving His interests in both the church and in the marketplace. While working as a Regulatory Compliance Specialist at ExxonMobil Nigeria Unlimited, she received the Vice President's Commendation Award (2005/06) for her impactful contribution to the Stop AIDS program. Pastor Nike is also an entrepreneur, founding a thriving catering business, Mama's Pot Ottawa, as well as the Amazon Lady Laga, a traditional marriage ceremony umpire service. She co-owns Classic Elegance Events Supports Services, an events management service provider.

Currently, Pastor Nike is the lead pastor of the host church, RCCG myFather's House, Ottawa. A devoted and grounded teacher of the Word, she is also a seasoned administrator and compassionate counsellor. Pastor Nike is a spiritual mother and mother-figure to many, and her ministry reflects a deep passion for families, women, and young adults. Her heart's desire is to see people walk in the fullness of the destiny that God has ordained for them.

Pastor Nike enjoys singing and taking walks. Her favorite Scripture is 2 Corinthians 4:7: "But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us." She has been gloriously married to Dr. Wole Oyetoran for over 28 years, and their home is blessed with four beautiful angels.

TARRY IN HIS POWER: Positioned for A Supernatural Outpouring

It takes power to make an impact. The impact of a balloon hitting a mirror is not the same as that of a stone. A balloon is lightweight and soft, while a stone is heavier and hard. The force of the balloon on the mirror is gentle and harmless. The stone, on the other hand, will shatter the mirror because of its sharp and forceful impact. In other words, the greater the force, the greater the impact. If we want our impact to be far-reaching, we must be people of substance and “weightiness”. Indeed, it truly takes power to make an impact.

We have been called as light to shine in a world of darkness, and it will require a strength beyond ourselves to influence and transform our world. 1 Samuel 2:9 reminds us that it is not by human strength that one prevails. This is why, just before His ascension, Jesus instructed His disciples to tarry in Jerusalem until they were endued with power (Acts 1:8). Only then could they step out to fulfill the assignment they had been given. Beloved, to make a notable impact for God—not like that of the balloon—you must be empowered. The work of God requires strength. Whether in politics, business, the church, or the marketplace, we are only able to do exploits when we are divinely strengthened (Daniel 11:32b).

One way we access this power is through the art of prayer. James tells us that the effectual, fervent prayer of a righteous person makes tremendous power available (James 5:16). He refers to Elijah, a man just like us, who through prayer controlled the weather and called down fire from heaven (James 5:17-18; 1 Kings 18). Jesus, our perfect example, impacted the world because He was given to prayer (Acts 10:38; Matthew 14:23).

Beloved, we do not only generate power in the place of prayer—we cause a shift. Isaiah 66:7-8 describes an impossible situation: Can a nation be born in a day? Yet when Zion (that is, the Church) travailed in prayer, a nation was born. As a kingdom of priests, prayer is our form of legislation; whatever we permit or forbid in the place of prayer is what will be (Matthew 18:18)

If you desire your life to count across generations, you must be empowered. Life is a battlefield, and as children of God, we will face many opposing forces. If you truly want to impact your world for Christ, then tarry in the place of prayer until you are endued with power. Pray until something shifts. Like Daniel, you can literally shape history through prayer (Daniel 9:2-3; 2 Chronicles 36:22-23).

“Behold, I send the Promise of My Father upon you; but tarry in the city of Jerusalem until you are endued with power from on high.”
(Luke 24:49)

AGENTS OF CHANGE: Empowered to Influence the Nations

We are redeemed to be wonders to our world—redeemed to show forth the praises, glory, and excellence of God. As Jeremiah 30:19b declares, "I will glorify them, and they shall not be small." This means we will not be relegated, ignored, or insignificant. Therefore, hate smallness. Detest mediocrity. What you do not hate, you will not confront; and what you do not confront, you will not conquer.

We have been redeemed to be global change agents. This places a demand on us to step up, show up, and take responsibility. The Bible records in Micah 4:2 that in the last days, the church would be a reference and focal point. In other words, these are the days when the Church becomes the reference point—when the children of God influence and impact the world for Christ. To fulfill this calling, however, we must develop the capacity it requires. We must be equipped with power from on high; we cannot achieve God's agenda in the strength of the flesh. But we must also venture into deep waters (Luke 5:4). David could confront Goliath not only because he went in the name and power of God, but because he had triumphed in secret, at the back-side of the desert. He had proven himself to be faithful in little, and so when it mattered most, he could rely on his wilderness training.

This is the time to go after knowledge that builds. Sharpen the "blade" of your axe (Ecclesiastes 10:10), build your mental capacity and sharpen your expertise. Reshape your mindset—a limited mindset limits God. Do not settle; avoid the arrival mentality. In Christ, there is more. Do not lose your zeal, your drive, and your passion to grow, to do, and to become more. Pursue excellence in all things.

Now the Lord says to me, "You will do more than restore the people of Israel to Me. I will make you a light to the Gentiles, and you will bring My salvation to the ends of the earth."
(Isaiah 49:6)

If we truly want to influence the nations, we must be men and women of character—living by the truth in a world of lies. We must dare to be different. We cannot change a culture we are still conforming to. Like Daniel, let no fault be found in you (Daniel 6:4). As a high-ranking politician, the Bible records that Daniel was neither corrupt nor negligent. Similarly, it was said that David ruled with integrity of heart and skillfulness of hand (Psalm 78:72). Moreso, 2 Samuel 23:3 reminds us that "He who rules over men must be just. If you are in a position of authority, especially in the marketplace, remember whose interests you are there to serve (Acts 13:36; Esther 4:14). Use your position and influence to serve God's purposes.

Financial empowerment is another way that we fulfill our mandate as global change agents. Ecclesiastes 9:14–16 speaks of a wise poor man whose wisdom was despised because of his poverty. Making an impact means rising above financial mediocrity. Our results have to speak; they validate our message and determine our credibility. As God's children, we must break free from a poverty mentality. We must become financially disciplined, financially sufficient, and financially sound. And we must understand the purpose of kingdom wealth (Zechariah 1:17).

Being a global change agent is a call to live as light. Isaiah 60:1-3 commands us to arise and shine. Light attracts the attention of kings. It reveals, and gives visibility to glory and beauty. But we must arise if we are to shine. Ecclesiastes 8:1 tells us that wisdom makes a man's face shine, and Proverbs 22:29 tells us that diligence brings us before kings. Beloved, let your light shine. Aspire to do great things for God. Dream big kingdom dreams. Ask God for wisdom—and for strength. One without the other is not sufficient.

Fellow global change agents, we will shift the culture; we will define trends; we will set the pace. We will influence nations for Jesus. We will be relevant—people of excellence who cannot be ignored. This is God's plan - that we impact our world for Jesus. And by His grace—we will!

"Nations will come to and will be guided by your light and kings by the brightness of your rising (radiance)."
(Isaiah 60:3)

LET THE EXPLOITS BEGIN: Go in This Thy Might

“Arise! Shine! Your light has come! And the Glory of the LORD has risen upon you!”
(Isaiah 60:1)

Impact is ministry. It is using whatever platform one has to serve the purposes of God. Impact is shining as a light in darkness, it is having an effect on others. To live a life of impact is to live a life of positive influence. It is about pointing people to God—whether through our results, our lifestyle, or the works of our hands—touching and influencing lives, bringing hope, healing, restoration, and health. While our choices, actions, and lifestyles may seem personal, their effects extend far beyond us. It therefore behooves us to be intentional about the way we live.

Can it be said that the way we live our lives and conduct our affairs reflects well on God? Do our lives cause people to pause and reflect, because they are challenged by what they see in us? Do our words edify, encourage, build? What are our values? Who do people say that we are? What about our kind of results? Are we marked by excellence? You see, excellence is evangelism. We should strive to win in the marketplace. Moreover, the world will know our God by how we win. So don't just win—win well.

In Judges 6:14 when the angel of the Lord came to Gideon, he was hiding from the enemies of Israel. Yet the angel commissioned him to “go in this thy might”. What “might” was the angel referring to? Gideon did not feel mighty in any way. It seemed laughable that someone who was obviously living in fear, who believed he was insignificant (vs 15) would be called “mighty”. Beloved, you do not have to “feel” a certain way to make an impact. You have heard God’s word over the past few days. In the words of Isaiah 60, you have to arise, and shine. Why? Because your word has come. This is the only qualification you need—the coming of your word. It does not say, “Wait until you feel strong.” No! Your word has come, so arise!

In Judges 15:4-5, Samson released pairs of foxes into the field of the Philistines with their tails on fire. In the same way, we have been released as a bright and shining light into this dark world to set on fire and pull down everything that is exalting itself against the knowledge of God. We have been let loose as agents of change, commissioned to go and make disciples of all nations. So, we are to use every avenue, every platform to reach people for the kingdom. Everything we do must have the undertone of kingdom-impact.

We must also realise that impact does not equate fame. The call to live a life of impact is not a call to seek recognition or fame. Furthermore, we must understand that our places of assignment and influence will differ in scope and size. This is why comparison is foolish. As long as we use our platform(s)—whether business, academia, family, social status/office—to serve the purposes and interest of God, and we reveal Jesus in every way we can, we are living a life of impact. So start from where you are. But think BIG!

As we come to the end of the conference, I charge everyone of us to go forth in “this thy might”. Your word has come. Arise! Shine! Go forth and change your world. Shift the culture. Set the pace. Define the trends. Heal the sick. Bring hope to those who have lost hope. Pursue excellence. Serve with diligence. Live intentionally, with purpose in every step. Refuse to settle. Reject mediocrity. Fight every limiting mindsets. Go and live an impactful life. This is the conclusion of the whole matter.

“...These are the men who have turned the world upside down...” (Acts 17:6b)

Meet Our Youth Leader - LEMUEL Barango

I hold a B.Sc. in Mathematics and Physics from the University of Ottawa. As a young kid, I went from flunking in school to becoming a self-proclaimed Maths Genius. My love for mathematics provided me with a strong foundation in analytical thinking and problem-solving. Building on this, I thought to myself how to code during my time at university and started my journey to software engineering.

I attended school to study Mathematics and Physics so that I could become a High School Teacher. While at university, I made some money as a tutor. My teaching skills have been acquired by God to be fully used in the church.

When I'm not at church, hanging out with mFH youngins, I spend most of my time working full-time in the financial technology sector as a Cloud Engineer. Although I work full-time, as the son of two full-time pastors, the church has also always been a full-time commitment.

My journey into serving started the moment I came to Ottawa to study. My close friends and I intentionally chose to spend our weekends serving in church. We believed that if we did not purposely spend time in the house of God, there would be many distractions that would gladly occupy our time. While serving, I met Pastor Nike, the lead pastor of myFather's House, who mentored and paved my path into the youth and young adults ministry here at mFH.

My favorite Scripture is Romans 8:31. I am happily married to my legendary wife, Deinyefa Eporwei, aka Deinye (I'm the only one allowed to call her Deinyefa. Not my rules.) Fun fact: Many people are surprised to learn that I'm a pretty decent amateur chef, especially when it comes to West African cuisine. Have you tried my spicy fried plantain? It's a recipe I stole from my wife! When I am not ministering, I enjoy napping, photography, and reading or watching the news.

mFH Children Corner

In the Children's Department, our mission is to instill a strong sense of identity in our kids, equip them to stand firm against the ways of the world, and prepare them for their own futures. We do this by teaching the Word of God, encouraging them, and showing them practical ways to hide the Bible in their hearts.

Some of the key lessons we've covered to support this goal include:

- The Fruit of the Spirit (Galatians 5:22-23)
- The Beatitudes (Matthew 5:3-12)
- Rooted in Christ (John 15:1-10)

Our children meet every Sunday from 10:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., where they learn about the Word and take home "action words" to apply during the week.

They also meet online every Friday from 7:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m., using this time to journal, take notes, and explore how to connect Scripture to their daily lives.

The kids love to express themselves through dance, spoken word, and drama, using these creative outlets not just to share what they've learned, but to reveal who they are becoming in Christ.

One of our favorite special programs is our Summer Camp, a weekend sleepover for kids aged between 6 to 13. It's a highlight of the year! The kids spend time learning about God, praying, doing creative activities like bead-making and drawing, memorizing Bible verses, and of course, dancing and having fun. During these sleepovers, we make sure every child's needs are met. It's such a great experience that many of them can't wait to come back year after year!

We deeply love our children's class, and we believe it truly takes a village to raise a child. We are always open to welcoming people who feel led to serve. If you have a heart for children and a desire to give back, we invite you to join us in doing the Lord's work. It's a big commitment, but it is incredibly rewarding.

Advice Section: FINANCES

Managing Money with Wisdom and Purpose

Why Finances Matter

Hey everyone! Ever feel like talking about money is, well, a bit awkward, especially in a church setting? But here's the truth: how we manage our finances isn't just about balancing a budget; it's a vital part of our walk with God.

Money isn't just about math—it's about mission.

As believers, we're called to be good stewards of everything God entrusts to us—including our finances. It's about recognizing that every dollar we earn is a gift from Him, and how we use it reflects our gratitude and our commitment to His Kingdom. As Psalm 24:1 reminds us, "The earth is the Lord's, and everything in it, the world, and all who live in it." This means our money isn't truly "ours" in the first place; it's His.

Wise money management reflects our trust in God and our readiness to serve His Kingdom.

"Moreover, it is required in stewards that a man be found faithful." – 1 Corinthians 4:2

When we see our money as God's resource, we begin to spend, save, and give with purpose. Stewardship isn't about restriction—it's about freedom. Freedom from financial stress and freedom to follow God's call.

Simple Steps to Financial Wisdom

So, where do we start? Taking control of your finances doesn't have to be complicated, and you don't need to overhaul your whole life overnight. Here are a few practical steps you can take today:

1. Track your spending for 30 days.
2. Write down everything you spend—yes, even the $3 coffee. It sounds simple, but you'd be amazed at what you learn! You'll gain awareness and insight into where your money really goes.
3. Save a percentage of every income.
4. Whether it's 5%, 10%, or even $10, consistency builds discipline. Commit to saving a portion of every paycheck, no matter how small. Even tiny acorns grow into mighty oaks!
5. "The wise store up choice food and olive oil, but fools gulp theirs down." – Proverbs 21:20 (NIV)
6. Create a "Giving Fund"
7. Set aside a portion of your money just for generosity. When a need arises, you'll be ready—and joyful—to meet it. Before you pay anyone else, set aside a portion for giving. This isn't just about tithing; it's about cultivating a generous heart. When we prioritize giving, we're acknowledging God's provision and participating in His work. 2 Corinthians 9:7 encourages us: "Each of you should give what you have decided in your heart to give, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver."

Money with a Mission: Kingdom Impact

Money isn't the goal—it's a tool. A tool that can support missions, bless a neighbor, fund a God-inspired business, or simply meet someone's need at the right time. Our finances are a powerful tool for Kingdom impact. Imagine your money not just as something to spend on yourself, but as a resource to further God's purposes. This could mean supporting missionaries sharing the Gospel, helping local ministries serve your community, or even investing in God-inspired ideas like a Christian business, a book that shares truth, or music that uplifts.

"Command them to do good, to be rich in good deeds, and to be generous and willing to share." – 1 Timothy 6:18 (NIV)

Financial stability isn't just about security—it's about availability. When we manage our money wisely, we create margin for generosity, service, and truly purpose-driven living. When we're financially free, we can say yes to God's nudges without hesitation.

Avoiding Common Traps

Even the best intentions can be derailed by these two habits:

1. Emotional Spending. Buying out of boredom, stress, or comparison leads to regret. Pause and pray before you pay.
2. Neglecting the Future. It's tempting to ignore budgeting or saving. But even small, consistent planning pays off.

"The plans of the diligent lead to profit..." – Proverbs 21:5 (NIV)

That impulse purchase when you're stressed, the avoidance of saving for retirement because it feels so far away. These habits can keep us stuck. Remember, wisdom plans for tomorrow.

Encouragement for the Journey

If you feel behind or overwhelmed financially, take heart—it's never too late. Financial journeys have ups and downs. The good news is that small, consistent steps, guided by God's wisdom, can lead to incredible transformation.

God cares about your finances. He wants to guide you into peace, purpose, and provision. Start where you are. Ask Him for wisdom.

"In all your ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct your paths." – Proverbs 3:6

Don't be discouraged by where you are; focus on where you're going with Him. As Philippians 4:13 reminds us, "I can do all this through him who gives me strength." Let's trust God with our finances, seek His guidance, and watch Him multiply our efforts for His glory.

Faithful Finances

1. Start Small, Stay Consistent. Don't underestimate the power of small, steady steps. Build good habits one day at a time.
2. Pray Over Your Plans. Invite God into your budgeting, saving, and giving. He cares about your decisions.
3. Give with Purpose. Generosity unlocks joy. Plan your giving and be ready to make a difference.

You don't have to be perfect. Just faithful!
God bless you!

Advice Section: BUSINESS

Business Isn't Cute – It's Legacy

Let's be honest — if you're looking for a cool, calm, and aesthetically-pleasing career path, entrepreneurship, business is not it. It's not soft life. Sometimes, it feels like the universe is plotting against you — or worse, that God has ghosted your business plans. Don't worry, He hasn't.

I'm Heritage Ayeleso. With over 15 years in the beauty industry and 5+ years building cargo and logistics systems from the ground up, I've seen it all — the highs that feel like heaven, and the lows that make you question your entire existence. And I'm still standing. Still building. Still pushing. Because here's the truth:

Success in business isn't about who had the best idea or the prettiest packaging. It's about who refused to give up.

You need grit. You need integrity when no one's watching. You need resilience when everything feels like it's falling apart. And above all, you need passion. The kind that burns through disappointment, silence, and setbacks.

This journey is not for the faint-hearted. It's for the bold. The committed. The ones who understand that roadblocks aren't stop signs; they're reminders that you're still on the road.

So, if you want to win in business, let this be your mantra: Keep moving. Say it again: Keep. Moving.

No matter the delays, distractions, or detours — keep showing up. Never cave in. Never bow out. Because the business world doesn't reward the smartest — it rewards the ones who didn't quit.

Yours truly,

Heritage Ayeleso

Advice Section: RELATIONSHIPS

In God's grand and perfect scheme of creation, the first thing He described as "not good" was the "aloneness of man". By design, man was not configured to live or thrive in solitude. God's desire is for you to have relationships that reflect His heart, not just your preferences; friendships that sharpen, not just for vibes; love that is patient, pure, and purposeful, not one that pressures, drains, or controls. He, however, has placed the power to choose within your hands. As you navigate the complexities of life, faith, and identity, you must realize just how much your relationship choices shape you. Whether it be friendships or romantic relationships, you are not just choosing company — you are choosing influence.

Your choices begin with you. Are you aware of who you are? Are you aware of whose you are? Are you aware of who God wants you to be? Do you know where you are headed? Understanding these will help you make informed choices and seek meaningful relationships. Every "walking together" comes with an agreement. Choose purpose in that agreement. Audit your space — Is this relationship a weight or a wing? Is it drawing you closer to God or making you more comfortable in compromise? Is it lifting you or making you drown? Are they helping you to step boldly into purpose or slowing you down with distractions? You cannot build a purposeful life without purposeful relationships. Your choices also require courage. The courage to let go of relationships that are familiar but unhealthy. When you chase what God has not sent or whom God has not sent, you risk losing yourself in the process and driving farther away from divine purpose. When you hold on to the old, you miss the possibility of the new.

Impact does not happen by accident or wishful thinking but by alignment and intentionality. One of the most powerful determinants of your life's trajectory is your choice of a life partner. Emotional connection is great, but that is not all there is. Let God lead you and be open to hear and accept. Seek godly counsel. Be discerning and choose with your future in mind. The word of God is a clear expression of the will of God, seek to understand it. God will never call you into what He has already called you out of. If you truly desire a life of impact, your closest relationship must not be a contradiction to your calling.

Great relationships do not run on autopilot, they are built and nurtured (even your relationship with God). Relationships are mirrors. They will reflect your strengths, but also your weaknesses. They will uncover parts of you that need healing, grace, and maturity. Be ready to communicate, grow, change, learn patience and self-control, and learn to truly love and forgive. That is the gift of true connection.

Letter to Leo

To: Leonard (my brother)
August 8th, 2030.

Leo,

When did we last speak? I've forgotten your voice. Even if I were to hear it now, I wouldn't recognize it. It's been a long time, my friend; aren't you tired of being away from home? Perhaps you've already found a new place for yourself, somewhere safe. These are dangerous times we're living in.

I can't imagine how much worse things have gotten these past few years. It's haunting to realize that the safest I've felt was the day following the Great Tragedy. Neither of us would prefer to relive that day, though it's no accident I'm writing this to you on the same day it happened 15 years ago. Why? I and the village still stand.

We're growing. Since you left, we've rebuilt our homes, schools and even the Church. Speaking of which, the next time you see me, you may address me as Father. Unfortunately, nature has reclaimed the mines that once held the treasures, which made our home a formidable ally and adversary.

I've been wondering, was there a purpose to it all? Why did God force our people to lose everything? Why did this nation's last true believers suffer such calamity? I long believed He forsook us. Or perhaps He didn't care whether we lived or died. What value does a single human life hold against the endlessness of the Divine?

Of course I know the answer; our lives are worth everything to Him. I realized in our prosperity we lost sight of what mattered. Our strength stemmed not from natural resources, but from God's grace.

Perhaps that destruction served a purpose. The village's devotion to God and each other is unprecedented. Even outsiders are welcome to seek refuge and comfort from the chaos that rages outside our village borders. That includes you too, Leo.

I'm always here, waiting to receive you with open arms. You can't run from Truth forever. Face Him in life, not death.

Until we meet again,

Yours faithfully,
Father Eligius of Fossors.

Hidden Books of the Bible Puzzle

There are names of 16 books of the Bible mentioned in the paragraph below. See how many you can find. HINT: The names can be part of a word or part of two words put together across punctuations.

"I once made a remark about the hidden books of the Bible (merely by a fluke). It kept people looking so hard for the facts and for others, it was a revelation. Some were in a jam, especially since the names of the books were not capitalized, but the truth finally struck home to numbers of readers. To others, it was a real job. We want it to be a most fascinating few moments for you. Yes, there will be some really easy ones to spot. Others may require judges to help them. I will quickly admit it usually takes a minister to find one of them, and there will be loud lamentations when it is found. A little lady says she brews a cup of tea so she can concentrate better. See how well you can compete. Relax now. There really are sixteen names of Bible books in this story."

In the majesty of His presence (a short story)

I approached the throne room of my Father, where He sat. It had been a while, but I knew I wanted to come home. He did not say a word as I climbed His leg and settled in His lap. Not one word of rebuke. Not a push or a shove. Instead, he patted my head and rubbed my back. He held me close as I relaxed in the softness of His embrace. He sang to me so I fell asleep, and when I woke up, He played with me like a child. He threw me up in the air and caught me. He chased me around the room and looked for me behind curtains and inside cupboards. He fed me, and He made sure I was full; then He gave me water to wash it all down. He picked me up, He changed my dressing, and He sent me on my way. I would see Him again, tomorrow.

Who Am I?

(Biblical Characters Who Made Impact)

ACROSS

1. My name is "Jedidiah". God gave me this name. It means "beloved of God".
3. I am a man of prophetic and political excellence and impact. Despite the many coups in my time, I stayed relevant across four governments.
5. I led my nation's military to battle; I was judge, prophet, wife, and mother.
7. I attended a gathering of believers. I know my life will count, because God will make me a joy of many generations. I am a person of impact.
9. Through me, God preserved my family. Despite the hatred, lies, and jealousy, God kept me. He gave me esteem and influence, and made me a father to the king.
10. I am a loyal friend, respectful son, and valiant warrior whose integrity stood firm even in the face of personal loss.
11. I am a woman of prayer and deep faith who dedicated my long-awaited son to the Lord.

DOWN/UP

2. I chose the God of the Hebrews over my own god. I chose to leave my people, my family, and the life I had ever known. My story is one of how faithfulness can rewrite destiny.
3. I served God's purpose in my generation as son, brother, friend, shepherd, military general, musician, king, prophet, father. My name means "beloved".

4. I was once the least in my family, but God called me mighty. With just a few men, I won a great battle.

6. I was just a servant to the king, a captive in a foreign land. Yet, I used my position to rebuild my homeland, and ended up as the governor. My story shows that true leadership begins with a burden, is fueled by prayer, and results in transformation.

8. I have a past, but grace found me. I risked my life and that of my family to help God's people. Today, I am part of the lineage of grace.

10. I am a courageous princess who preserved the royal line by hiding my nephew from his grandmother's murderous decree.

My Bible - Cure to All Lies

The scriptures! What gift to humanity do we uphold in our days! From the same words that brought out light from the void, springs forth a peaceful aura even the most troubled soul can not avoid. Medicine to my mind in this dark world which purifies the words that I hear and gracefully guides those which I speak.

The scriptures! I don't need novels when I have tales of many kinds, each displaying an excellency uncommon to the reasoning of mankind. I read about how kings were made to fall and how servants were made to rise, how nations were brought down despite their size. I read of how economies were reduced to dust - skilled in international trade, truly more than the glory of this present day. Since then, economists became to me as flesh and blood, same went for kings, governments and strongholds - all immeasurable and infinitesimal to the glory of God.

The scriptures! I was made to believe that I was a void in society, then the Author called me an eternal excellency. These words are my heavenly issued ID. Written by men, dictated by SPIRIT. God's intelligence in physical pages. Like a student will I sit with the Author by my side as I open this compendium of truths sought after even at the expense of lives. The cure to lies of unimaginable grotesque, my Bible. Still can't believe this book isn't in the museum but sits at the edge of my desk.

CREATIVE PIECES (BY MFH YAYA)

To the Young Men, For You are Strong.

I speak to you, young men, for you are strong.
Vibrant and full of life-force, vigor, and youthful zeal,
You can outrun, outlast, and give your all in service
To the Kingdom of God. Yes, you are physically strong.
But the race is not always to the swift, nor the battle to the physically strong.
No. Your true strength lies in knowing God.
Is it not written that those who know their God shall be strong and do exploits?
Like David, you stand strong in the Lord, and in the power of His might,
Confronting and conquering Goliaths that defy your God.

I speak to you, young men, for you are strong.
You have the advantage of time.
Take responsibility early in life,
For it is good for a man to bear the yoke while he is young
Remember your Creator in the days of your youth;
Seek God now, in the dawn of your days,
For it is written that those who seek Him early will find Him.
Job said, "As I was in the days of my youth,
When the secret of God was upon my tabernacle."
Now is the time to pay the price,
To build a relationship with God, to create a history with Him.
Be able to say, "a ti ri ji na" (we go way back; God and I, we have history).
You have the advantage of time, live wisely and well.

I speak to you, young men, for you are strong.
Strong in capacity and potential; destined to be trailblazers and pathfinders,
Do not let anyone despise your youth,
For it is written, a child shall lead them.
Be an example in conduct, conversation, purity, and integrity.
Like Daniel and Joseph, you are called to positions of influence and impact.
Be men of character and integrity;
Do not be like Samson, who debased his glory
Abusing his strength in the service of sin.
For the conduct of your youth gives character to your age.

I speak to you, young men, for you are strong.
You are men of audacious and resolute faith,
Like the three Hebrew brothers, unwavering in the face of death.
Of you, the Scriptures declare,
"They charge like warriors, they run like mighty men,
A formidable force, dressed in the attire of battle, hearts ignited with purpose"
With keen minds, you dissolve doubts,
You are discreet and wise beyond your years,
For you fear the Lord, your God.

I speak to you, young men, for you are strong.
"For I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh," says the Lord,
And your sons and daughters will prophesy.
I am doing a new thing, can you not see it?
I am raising unto myself an exceeding great army.
The appearance of them is as the appearance of horses;
They are a fearless tribe of kingdom-minded people, a chosen and resilient generation;
The generation that seeks my face, says the Lord
They shall lead revolutions and revivals,
Establishing my kingdom in their spheres of influence.
They shall turn the hearts of men to their God,
Revealing Jesus to their world."

I speak to you, young men, for you are strong.
The glory of the youth is their strength.
So control your strength; concentrate your strength;
Conserve your strength; consecrate your strength.
Do not squander your strength on those who ruin kings;
For godliness makes the strength of young men glorious.
I speak to you, young men, for you are strong;
The Word of God dwells richly in you, and you have overcome the evil one.

- Chimnomso Ogboh

"Rooted"

I am not just planted —
I am rooted.
Not in the soil of circumstance,
But in Christ, the cornerstone,
So I bow not to fleeting shadows or shifting sands.
I do not drink from broken cisterns.
I am a tree planted by living water.
Psalm One told me:
Blessed is the one who does not walk with the wicked,
Who delights in the law of the Lord —
Day and night, I meditate.
So my leaves do not wither,
My fruit comes in season.

But what good is seed without roots?
What good is faith that does not grow fruit?
For faith without works is dead,
And a tree without fruit is just wood and potential.

The Spirit within must overflow —
Love must live in me.
Joy must dance through me.
Peace must hold my hands steady in the storm.
Patience must walk with me through dry seasons.
Kindness must be my language.
Goodness, my habit.
Faithfulness, my anchor.
Gentleness, my response.
And self-control — oh, it must rule over desire.

So I devote myself to learning,
To fellowship,
To breaking bread,
To prayer.
Because what is rooted in Him, grows —
And what grows in Him, bears fruit —
And what bears fruit, glorifies the Father.

So I declare this:
Let my roots go down deep in grace,
Let my branches reach high with praise.
Let the world not just hear my faith —
Let them see it.

I am rooted.
And I will remain.
In the Vine,
In the Word,
In Christ.
